"They Always Pick on Me!" Carmen Garrison.
"That Was Before I Met You" Abraham Ferber.
"Come Back Margaret!" G. N. Boehm.
"Oh You Girls, Girls, Girls," Misses Martin, Galloway and Jennings.
Concluding with "Alexander's Rag Time Band" Roy Colburn and Dauber Mason. Assisted by the entire company.

The Elks Minstrels was under the direction of Rufus K. Love and Miss M. M. Bond presided at the piano. This is the second attraction staged in this city under the direction of Mr. Love and the consensus of opinion was that that 1911 "Elks Minstrels" was the equal if not the best of any amateur show ever given in Clifton.

The old, old story which was attempted to be told by Cal Cole had to do with the building of the million dollar smelter by the Arizona Copper Co. Company officials who were present seemed to enjoy the joke as well as not better than the audience in general.

The Elks never do anything by halves and the entertainment furnished by that order was in full keeping with the world wide reputation for being the "Best People on Earth."

Socialist Meeting

The Clifton branch of the socialist party of America held their weekly meeting at the Casino club room last Monday night and after regular business was disposed of an address was delivered by Walter Doudna, socialist candidate for state senator. He chose as his subject "The Relative Position of the Socialist Party and the Trusts." Mr. Doudna's talk was very interesting as the topic of the trusts is a very live one and deserves the earnest and sincere study of every man who has the interests of the people at heart.

The weekly meetings by the socialists of Clifton are held every Monday night and let it be understood that any person is at liberty to attend and propound any question that may be asked as to the issues of the day or on the principles of socialism. It is guaranteed that if you come once you will come again.

The socialists hope to have a few able speakers to speak from the stump during the present campaign and vital questions will be handled and not generalities alone.

On next Monday night Comrade Daniel Lynch will make a few remarks on the subject of the old story "The High Cost of Living." Here is another question that concerns us all and the questions: Did the republican party create the high tariff? Did the high tariff create the trusts? Did the trusts create the high cost of living? Well, rest assured that our friend Dan Lynch will be able to present the socialistic principles as related to the high cost of living in all its truthfulness.

The Traveling Salesman

The laughing success of the season, "The Traveling Salesman," by James Forbes, will be the offering at the Armory on November 28th on which date the original New York and Chicago production comes to this city.

The story of The Traveling Salesman concerns Bob Blake, a jovial, fat drummer, who is compelled to spend Christmas day in a lonely village of the middle west, and on his arrival finds in the presence of Beth Elliott, the ticket agent at the depot, a most congenial person. They strike up an acquaintance which soon ripens into affection and for the first time in his life the young drummer discovers that he is enthralled with the sweetness and beauty of a charming young lady. Through her he learns that she is about to lose a tract of land and he at once takes steps to protect her rights and thereby runs counter to his employer, who has laid plans to obtain what the girl believes to be a piece of worthless real estate, but which has recently assumed considerable value as it is needed by the railroad company to complete some improvements they have in view. Blake jeopardizes his own position by espousing the rights of the girl, and this leads to many complications. The comedy of the play is of the rollicking breezy sort, and the love making scenes between Bob Blake and Beth Elliott are of the most delicious character.

Included in the company's roster are Don MacMillan, a comedian of wide experience who plays Bob Blake the drummer, and Dorothy Grey, who is said to be an ideal Beth Elliott.
